

Join Us to help children like Abigaella and her siblings get an education.

Abigaella's parents can not afford to send three children to school. If it were not for the Community School of Bellevue, a free school supported by Rotarians, they would not be getting an education.

Abigaella is 2 1/2 years old, loves the color yellow, and wants to be a nurse when she grows up.

When you partner with us, you can follow children like Abigaella on their journey to a brighter future!

How we started supporting the children of the Community School of Bellevue

- The Community School of Bellevue is a free school for children who can not afford an education.
- The school was started by a young man using his own money. The need in the community is so great that it grew beyond his ability to support it.
- One of our Rotarians, who made frequent trips to Haiti to help after the earthquake, learned that the school was about to close due to the loss of support from disaster response groups no longer coming.
  - The Rotary Club of Concordville - Chadds Ford stepped in to keep the school running, and Rotarians Sue and Peter Mardinly started Mommy Sue's Children to extend the reach of that support.

Future Rotarian!

Maxo, the founder, teaching English to the 6th grade at the School.
